GOSHEN COLLEGE

Foreword

From beneath whispering maple leaves and ivy covered buildings, song and study emerge in shifting patterns. Three hundred and twenty-nine different students, working, playing, and praying together, become one, as each surrenders a part of his own individuality to that larger being, The Spirit of Goshen College.

Here young men see visions, visions of wider areas of service into which God calls them tomorrow after preparation today. Here old men dream dreams, dreams of the future of Christ's kingdom on earth, of the Mennonite Church, of Goshen College. Here, on this campus, these things occur.

And it is this life, life as it is lived daily for God upon this campus, which the 1946 Maple Leaf seeks to present in this volume.

Dedication

TO PAUL ERB

whose sincere counsel and interpretation of the Christian life through literature have enriched the lives of so many,
this book is respectfully dedicated.

"Christ's lore and his apostles twelve
He taught, but first he followed it himself."

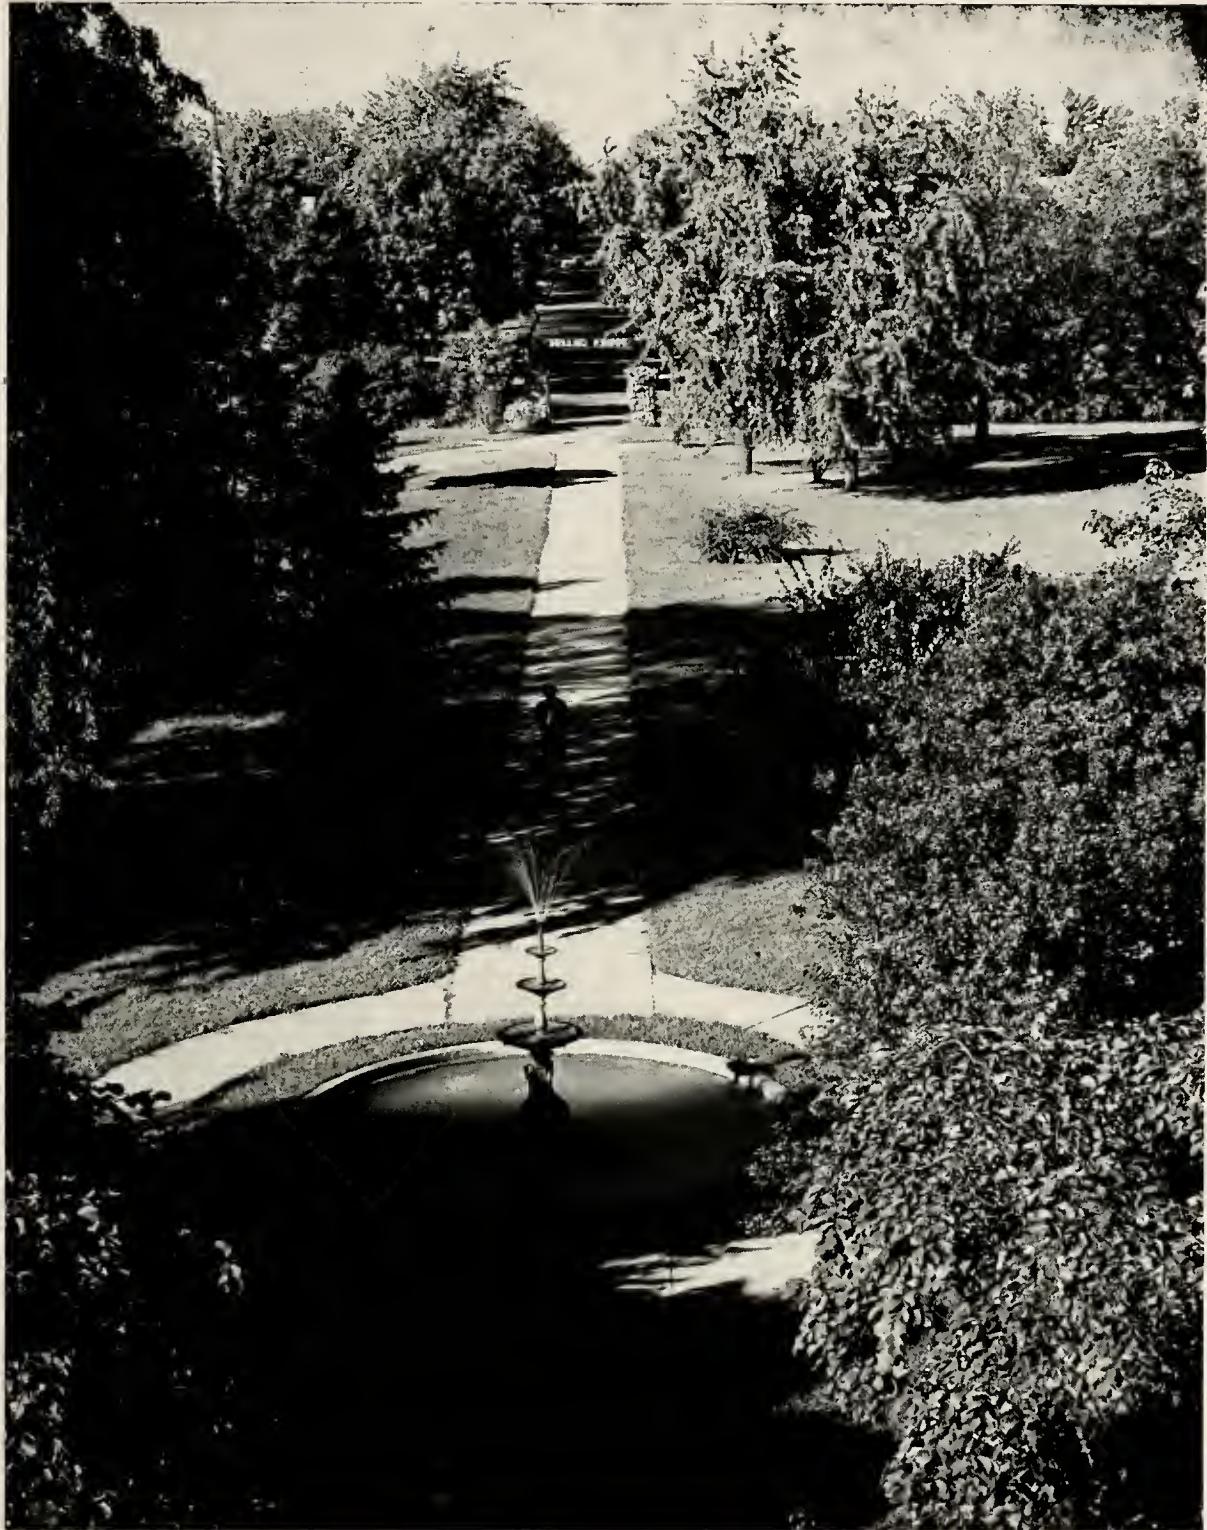

Alma Mater

There's a spot in Indiana,
Where the leafy Maple grows;
'Tis our dear and glorious Parkside,
Where the Elkhart River flows;
'Tis a spot we love most dearly,
'Tis a spot we'll cherish long,
After youth and strength have faded,
And this world has heard our song.

Refrain:

Goshen College, ever singing,
To her motto we'll be true.
Honor to our Master bringing,
Alma Mater, we love you.

Here we learn life's duties, doing,
In our sacred College halls,
Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior,
Answer "Aye" when duty calls.
Though our talents may be slender
Yet our hearts beat warm and true,
Ever lead us onward, upward,
Ever shall our strength renew.
And the lasting ties of friendship,
Woven thru with hopes and fears;
May they ne'er be brok'n asunder
In the distant coming years.
Though our future paths may lead us
To fair heights we cannot see,
Alma Mater, ere we leave you,
Loyalty we pledge to thee.

Administration

Ours is a youth-conscious and God-conscious faculty. Ours is a faculty characterized by penetrating thinking, high scholastic achievement, and profound Christian character.

How often we would tell you how much we appreciate you, and cannot, for the words would sound empty and hollow. How often our hearts have rejoiced within us to find that beneath the Ph.D. or professorial manner was the most human of friends, rich in understanding and eager to share our problems. To you we look for spiritual and intellectual leadership, and we know that you will not fail us in our confidence.

The things that thou hast heard of me
among many witnesses,

The same commit thou to faithful men,
Who shall be able to teach others also.

—Paul the Apostle of Christ.

ERNEST E. MILLER
President and Professor of Education
Ph.D., New York

Goshen College is a child of the Mennonite Church and a servant of Jesus Christ. She is the result of fifty years of consecration, of struggle and toil, of dreaming and praying. She is frequent failure but a steady road toward success. She is abiding Christian faith that develops and lingers through adversity and prosperity. Goshen College is missionaries to India, to South America, to Africa, and to the far corners of the earth. She is faithful ministers in many churches. She is devoted teachers in a thousand schoolrooms teaching eager children. She is doctors and nurses caring for the sick with skilled and tender hands. She is alumni with happy Christian homes. She is farmers plowing and praying. She is faculty homes with fervent prayers uttered and many quiet prayers unexpressed. She is the A Cappella Chorus singing sermons of sacred music down the years. She is search for Truth, which alone can make men free. She is the handiwork of God and men toiling together for half a century.

—Ernest E. Miller

CARL KREIDER
Dean and Professor of Economics
Ph.D., Princeton

We are constantly being reminded that the age in which we are living is revolutionary. In many respects this is true. Never before has man spanned the continent in less than six hours of flying time; never before have governments risen and fallen so rapidly nor boundaries changed so quickly; never before have the instruments for shaping and directing mass public opinion been more highly developed nor used with more devastating effect; never before has there been an atomic bomb. What has been the impact of these and a myriad of other similar revolutionary developments upon the life at Goshen College? Superficially many changes are apparent: we eat a more balanced diet; we wear different clothes; we listen to different professors; we read different books. More basically, however, life at Goshen College reflects values and ideals that are permanent in a world of constant and spectacular change; it demonstrates how Christians can achieve real security that satisfies amidst frustrations that lead to despair; and it testifies to the value of truth that is absolute in a world that relies on relativities that confuse. Successful living in any environment as on our campus demands the full utilization of the means of Christian living promoted by the faculty and students of Goshen College—a saving knowledge of Christ, the acceptance of His complete Lordship over our lives, and a reliance upon the eternal truth of the Word of God.

Classes

Four years of college life pass swiftly by, leaving their sediment of wisdom and philosophy.

The old classrooms in the Science and Ad buildings may have well-worn chairs and need new maps. There may be no great masterpieces upon their walls and no great merit that we should desire them. Yet they are, in a sense, beautiful, for in them young men and women think the long, long thoughts of youth and pursue that distant, ever elusive goal called knowledge. Here they are eager to know, to understand, and to do. Here they humbly realize that they can never know and that one man's mind is a mere speck in the vast universe of knowledge.

Every autumn freshmen go through the seemingly endless process of registration and wonder what the next four years hold in store. Every spring seniors leave the campus purposeful and consecrated, knowing that in the past four year their lives have fallen into pleasant places.

"'Tis a spot we love most dearly" . . . not exactly sentiment of all 1942 freshmen . . . numerous socials and many night sessions with fellow sufferers from homesickness soon getting us into the swing of things . . . by mid-semester girls asking the fellows to eat with them at the Sadie Hawkins party.

Sophomore year . . . high-lighted by hay-ride in the rain . . . Banquet-reunion at Homecoming with former classmates in our midst . . . a day at Camp Mack . . . Dr. Paul Bender pinch-hitting for our sponsor, Dr. Glen Miller, when he left for England on relief work . . . our women, champions of the softball league for the second time.

Juniors . . . watching Seniors sneak while they should have been in chapel . . . a superstitious banquet on Friday, the thirteenth of April.

Seniors . . . "3:30 sharp, in the down-pouring dark" sneaking to various cars and leaving Juniors all "snug in their beds," . . . bare feet in Michigan sand dunes . . . meanderings through a museum . . . dinner a la vegetarian . . . sleeping a la innerspring in the House of David park.

Now we say with all sincerity . . . "'Tis a spot we love most dearly, Loyalty we pledge to thee."

As a result of injuries received when an automobile crashed into the rear of his bicycle Friday morning, January 25th, while on the way to work, J. Wilbur Miller, a senior ThB, passed away Monday morning, January 28th, in the Goshen City Hospital. Wib's contribution to campus life was always outstanding. He was a young Christian leader of highest caliber whose loss is felt keenly by the student body.

To Wib

With laughter in his voice
And strength in his arm
And God in his heart
He lived among us.
Now he is gone.
Our finite minds grope searchingly
But cannot comprehend
This mystery of God's plan.
On fleshy tables of the human heart
His life is graven.

We will not fail you.
We, your comrades, who have loved you,
laughed with you
and prayed with you,
We, who are young, will fill the ranks.
The service that was yours to give
Must not be left unrendered.
The sheep your staff had shepherded
Must not be left untended.
The torch for Christ, still burning with your zeal,
You've left to us. We'll lift it high.
We will not fail you, comrade.

Class of '47

MOTTO: Prepare for tomorrow today.

COLORS: Rose and Silver

FLOWER: Carnation

Fifty-two juniors gathering from many parts of the United States and Canada . . . welcome newcomers from other colleges, the sophomore class and one from Puerto Rico . . . watch vigilantly every suspicious move of sly sneak-planning seniors . . . get caught slumbering "snug in their beds" one rainy night . . . spend next day sporting senior ensembles . . . and murmuring about "excellent riddance" . . . gallant wearers of the senior garb . . . these juniors . . .

Begin electing upper level courses . . . spend even more hours in outside reading . . . learn to think critically about vital issues of the day . . .

Assume larger responsibilities in larger activities . . . Y cabinet . . . Maple Leaf . . . banquet . . .

Benedicte, Alma Mater, Wir lieben vous siempre . . .

WAIT!

Am I to say,
that rose-less shrub
will bear no rose,
because no bloom
springs forth before my present gaze?

No, roses do not bloom that way!

God works each minute,
unseen by me and you.
His matchless fingers are at work,
fashioning the rose,
dripping perfume—
And one day, in due time,
the rose will bloom!

Am I to say,
that troubled skies
will have no bow,
because I see
no answer to my present prayer?
God does not always work that way!
He works each minute,
unknown to you and me.
His matchless Grace works tenderly,
mending the rifts,
healing the wounds—
And one day, in due time,
 (We dare not hurry God!)
the answer'll come!

So this is Goshen! You know, the campus doesn't look at all as I expected it to. Oh, that must be the library over there. I wonder which one is the Administration Building. And I'm supposed to live in one of these dormitories. Let's see, I'm all mixed up. But I think I'll like it. Oh, hello! What's your name? Her name sounds funny but I guess mine does too. I don't think I'll ever learn to know all these strange people. But I'm sure I'll like it; everybody is so friendly!

These placement tests are getting me down! I didn't know a thing on that last one. And these long registration lines; I can see why they call this Freshman "Daze"!

Activities . . . Freshman social . . . parties . . . get-acquainted social . . . why, a whole week has passed and I haven't even had time to get homesick! Now let's see, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday I have Christianity, and on -- oh, I know I'll never get his schedule straight. These courses are no snap either. But after all, I did come to study, that is, after I get oriented through the strenuous efforts of the orientation class. I believe I AM getting oriented, because I've learned to cut a lot of words short. I now say dorm, ad building, phys. ed., civ. lit, and intro! After all, isn't part of an education learning to say a lot in condensed form?

I really can't decide which literary to join; and next week is our freshman banquet! As a freshman, I'm content, and not even envious of the title, "upper-classman."

Summer School

The summer session for 1945 consisted of three separate terms. There were two short sessions of three weeks each and a longer nine-week session. Registration for the two spring terms reached a grand total of one hundred twenty-five different students. There were one hundred seven in attendance during the longer summer session. Eighteen separate courses were offered during the two spring terms, under the instruction of seventeen different teachers. Students were able to choose from an offering of twenty-seven courses during the later and longer summer session.

Student activities were managed by regularly appointed Y.P.C.A. officers and committees. Glen Martin was summer chairman; he was assisted by Alice Buckwalter. Rachel Litwiller served as secretary-treasurer. A well planned and well executed group of activities was outlined and carried out along recreational, social, and religious lines.

BETH

With my whole heart have I sought thee:
O let me not wander
from thy commandments.
Thy word have I hid in my heart
that I might not sin against thee.
Blessed art thou, O Lord:
teach me thy statutes.
With my lips have I declared
all the judgments of my mouth.
I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies,
as much as in all riches.
I will meditate in thy precepts,
and have respect unto thy ways.
I will delight myself in thy statutes:
I will not forget thy word.

ACCREDITMENT — BY WHOM?

Approval by official accrediting agencies is highly prized by the modern college, and it is of great value. It represents the stamp of good academic quality in terms of modern educational standards, and as such is in a sense a guarantee to the "consumer" that the college is capable of doing a good job of education.

But may there not be other "accrediting agencies" whose approval is equally or more important than that of the North Central Association, and whom we sometimes overlook? There are, for instance, the primary consumers, the students, who seek and must find in their college not only preparation for vocations but preparation for the supreme calling—Christian living and serving. What if they be not fully served? There are the parents who dream great dreams and seek fine things for their children and who claim the fulfillment of the promise of the college. There is the church, which intends through the college to perpetuate and enrich itself, its faith, its ministry. There is a desperately needy world which calls out for help, for leadership, for healing, through the new generation of Christian youth. There is also the faculty and staff of the college, who, loyal to the deeper goals of Christian education, require of the institution they serve opportunity, honest reward, Christian fellowship in work, and Christian ethics in administration.

All these must also accredit the Christian college. All these must approve Goshen College. And in the deepest sense N.C.A. accreditation is far less important than the approval of these who will remain the truest and best evaluators of the quality of our college.

Bible School

The Bible School is an organized division of Goshen College. It is maintained by the Mennonite church to meet the needs of two classes of students. In the first place, students who are pursuing the curriculum which leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree may choose Bible as their major subject or as elective work. In this way Bible may be taken as a part of the regular college course. The other class of students for which the Bible School has made provision are those who wish to pursue a course of distinctively biblical study. Several curricula have been outlined for this group of students. These curricula aim to provide such instruction in Bible and related subjects that those who complete it may be better prepared to serve the church as ministers, Bible teachers, missionaries or lay-workers.

The aim of the Bible School are: (1) To teach the Word of God as a means to a deeper spiritual life and as a preparation for increased usefulness in the church. (2) To direct the student in a first-hand study of the English Bible. (3) To train for practical work in the church. The ideals and the distinctive doctrine of the Mennonite church are taught in the light of the Scriptures.

The Winter Bible School

The full time enrollment for the 1946 Winter Bible School was fifty-three, thirty-one women and twenty-two men. Taking this number by states shows Indiana had 26, Ohio 10, Illinois 9, Michigan 5, Iowa 1, Pennsylvania 1, and Ontario 1. By classes those enrolled for the first year numbered 31, the second year 9, the third year 6, and the class for ministers 7. One course in Bible study which met only one evening a week enrolled (an additional) 86 students. All students completing requirements for three winter courses of study are granted a diploma. Those who graduated this year were: Margie Culp, Goshen, Indiana; Betty Frey, Archbold, Ohio; Alta Grieser, Archbold, Ohio; Loretta Mayer, Pigeon, Michigan; Maude Miller, Nappanee, Indiana; and Levi Slabaugh, Nappanee, Indiana. The commencement exercises were held in the college chapel on Thursday evening, February 14, at 7:30.

The regular faculty for this year were D. A. Yoder, Elkhart, Indiana, principal; I. E. Burkhart, Goshen, Indiana, secretary; Lester Hershey, Chicago, Illinois; Harold Zehr, Rantoul, Illinois; John Gingrich, Elkhart, Indiana; and George J. Lapp, Goshen, Indiana. From the college faculty the following each taught one course: H. S. Bender, Paul Mininger, G. F. Hershberger, John Umble, Mary Royer, and John Moseman. Two theology students, William Wenger and David Landis, assisted in one class each.

FIRST ROW: Elaine Sommers, Carol Hartzler, Mary Edith Troyer, Geraldine Gross, Arletta Roth, Elizabeth Hershberger, Winifred Erb.

SECOND ROW: Doris Miller, Betta Lee Bender, Leona Brenneman, Catherine Hernley, Grace Miller, Clara Esch, Lois Yake.

THIRD ROW: Truman Hershberger, Russell Krabill (minister), Royal Bauer, Gerald Studer, Harold Bauman, Wilbur Miller, Ansel Henderson, Earl Myers.

Locust Grove

Minister — Russell Krabill

Last February the Locust Grove Sunday School, project of the YPCA extension committee, was three years old. This Sunday School has developed into a church of thirty-one members with a regular pastor. Russell Krabill, who had been working in the mission for a year and a half, was ordained for this work on Aug. 5, 1945. The workers are Goshen college students.

The little church carries on a full program. The past year saw a basement dug and a furnace installed. Each Sunday morning there is Sunday School followed by a sermon. On Sunday evening there is young people's meeting and preaching service. Wednesday evening finds the group engaged in Bible study and prayer. On Saturday afternoon there are crafts and games for the children. Once a month the mothers of the community gather and listen to some capable person — nurse, educator—discuss the practical problems which mothers face. Last spring a Bible School was conducted with favorable results. Later in the summer the young people went to a camp where they enjoyed the out-of-doors and fellowship. Regular visitation groups go out into the area. During the year one of the members went to a CPS camp.

The Locust Grove church is meeting a great need in this semi-urban community of forty homes, but there is still much to be done. Several of the families have never attended the services; some are antagonistic, some are hardened, and others are indifferent. But the community seems to appreciate what has been done and the Lord is wonderfully blessing the efforts.

One soweth and another reapeth.

FIRST ROW: Evelyn Litwiller, Rosalie Hooley, Ferne Barkey, Flora Jean Hostetler, Ruth Bauman, Pauline Yoder, Marie Moyer, Lois Johns, Lois Jennings, Mary Lou Farmwald.

SECOND ROW: Paul Friesen, Kenneth Heatwole, Orley Swartzentruber, Peter Buller, Ford Berg (superintendent), Robert Keller, David Derstine.

East Goshen

Superintendent — Ford Berg

The East Goshen Sunday School is no longer in its organizational stage; but it is an established center of worship, already having completed its third year of services. Seventy-five to eighty people including about fifteen college teachers and workers, use this location as a place to worship each week.

It is operated by a willing and consecrated staff of students and has prospered to the extent that it could well use a regular church building. Regular weekly activities include the two Sunday preaching services, regular home visitation, a handcraft club for the juniors, and boys' and girls' Saturday projects. Children's meetings are held each Sunday night. A guest minister speaks about once a month and college quartets frequently aid in the meetings. Occasional programs are given by those who attend from the community. Laurence Horst conducted evangelistic meetings November 28 through December 4.

Two prayer meetings weekly are held by the staff members. For many students a new interest, a new approach and a new attitude comes toward Christian work through service at East Goshen.

But God giveth the increase.

Activities

Extra-curricular activities are as important in college life as any course listed in the catalogue.

Education includes living with other people, being subordinate to the group, and yet contributing worthily to it. Education involves acquiring social poise, leadership ability, and skill in speaking and writing. Education involves appreciating the fine arts. In short, a Christian education involves living to the fullest extent for God with one's fellow men.

In the YPCA, the college choruses, the language clubs, speech contests, and literary societies, on the Record staff, the Maple Leaf staff, or the debate squad, and in many other activities, students find a laboratory in which to test the knowledge they gain in textbooks.

Let each one exercise the art he knows. —Aristophanes

The Y motto, "To know Christ and to make Him known" carries into every phase of its endeavor.

Every autumn soon after arriving on the campus, each student is given a handbook containing all the important campus rules and information. This has been compiled by the membership committee. Each morning the student sings praises to God in the breakfast devotions planned by the devotional committee. This committee also sponsors student devotionals, morning watch, and weekly prayer meetings. In the evening he may attend a party or other social function planned by the social committee. This committee also sponsors Home-coming. On some Saturday afternoon he may be asked to unload canned food at the relief center. On Sunday afternoon he may help distribute tracts, visit the sick, or sing in the jail. Some week he will find himself listening to a series of well-planned talks on missions.

All of these and many more are evidences of the active place the YPCA occupies. During the past year the YPCA, under the capable leadership of Elizabeth Hershberger and Harold Bauman, has been especially inspirational. A new office and committee room, a much needed revision of the constitution, and a new devotional pamphlet are only a few of the things accomplished.

To Know Christ and to make Him Known.

As shown by the annual reports of the officers of The Mennonite Historical Society, the past year was one of the most successful in the Society's twenty year history. Total receipts were over one thousand dollars. Of this amount $689.85 was received from subscriptions and sales of THE MENNONITE QUARTERLY REVIEW, and $206 was donated from outside sources for the binding of periodicals. Eighteen sustaining members contributed sums ranging from five to twenty-five dollars.

The Society acquired for the Goshen College Mennonite Historical Library approximately nine hundred volumes of Dutch and German Anabaptist and Mennonite materials from the Mennonite Historical Library at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, on an exchange basis. During the past year the Society bound one hundred volumes of Dutch, French, Spanish, German, and English periodicals at a cost of two hundred fifty dollars. Approximately the same amount of material is to be bound during the current year.

A Cappella Chorus

President	- - - - -	Paul Friesen
Vice President	- - - - -	Leda Litwiller
Business Manager	- - - - -	Wilbur Miller
Director	- - - - -	Walter Yoder

The A Cappella Chorus looked forward to the 1945-46 season with a great deal of anticipation. Would there again be pre-war tenor and bass sections and a tour?

Many hours of practice under Professor Yoder's capable direction went into memorizing and interpreting music. The aim of the chorus is to sing without accompaniment sacred music, chorales, anthems, oratorios from the classic composers, and great hymns of the church. During the second semester members read through some of the great musical masterpieces not usually sung by the chorus. A new number which found a response everywhere was "Sacrament", words by Jensen, music by Sateren.

During Christmas vacation the chorus toured central Illinois, and at Eastertime, parts of Ohio.

"Oh, sing unto the Lord a new song;
For he hath done marvellous things."

Collegiate Chorus

President	- - - - -	Esther Shank
Secretary	- - - - -	Rebecca Garber
Accompanist	- - - - -	Mary Eleanor Bender
Director	- - - - -	Miss Mary Oyer

For the first time in its history the Collegiate Chorus in the year 1945-46 had an all-woman personnel including the director. Early in the season the group met at the cabin with Miss Oyer to discuss objectives for the coming year. They decided that these would be to sing praises to God and to sing for enjoyment.

Anyone who happened to pass near Aurora hall when the chorus was practicing might have heard "Good Folk Who Dwell on Earth" or some of the Bach chorales. At Christmas time the members joined with the A Cappella Chorus to sing the annual rendition of Handel's "Messiah".

At Homecoming, at Vespers, in a special chapel program, in local churches, and just practicing the chorus enjoyed happy times singing together under Miss Oyer's capable leadership.

"Singing and making melody
In your hearts unto the Lord."

Last autumn the German Club initiated twenty-nine new members at a grosse meeting at the College cabin. Even Doctor Eisenbart, alias Bill Wenger, appeared to sing a Deutsches Lied to the group. The aim of this club is to develop proficiency in the German language and interest in German literature and culture.

At Christmas time members of the German Club joined the French and Spanish Clubs to carol at the homes of faculty members and later congregated at Professor Sudermann's home to listen to the Christmas story in German, sing lovely old German carols, and enjoy the kuchen and punch served by Frau Sudermann. At another meeting the Club saw a film on German architecture, landscape, and customs. They enjoyed also Wilhelm Busch's "Max and Moritz," the progenitors of the "Katzenjammer Kids." The highlight of the year was the February meeting when Der Deutsche Verein joined with members of the North Manchester German Club for a banquet and songfest.

To each participant the past year in their German Club has meant a richer understanding of the real German "Kultur."

It was the goal of the officers during the past year to make each of the twenty-seven members of Le Cercle Francais active members. Along with students enrolled in French classes, anyone interested in learning more about France was invited to join in the monthly meetings.

Members chose to read as a connecting thread running through all the programs, the comedy, "Cyrano de Bergerac." Several main characters kept their parts throughout the play and other members took part in minor roles. Everyone especially enjoyed John Yoder's dramatic and highly amusing portrayal of the sensitive long-nosed Cyrano. Bernice Snyder and Mary Eleanor Bender also figured prominently in these readings.

Club members also joined in learning many fine French songs, such as "Il est ne, le divin Enfant," and "Jour de Lumiere." Another aim was to keep informed about current events and conditions in France. To alleviate some of the great need of the French people, members planned a project designed to help in a small way.

El Ateneo Espanol, organized in 1945, is composed of all students enrolled in the Spanish classes and those of the student body who know the language and are interested in the general field of Spanish culture. Meetings are held once a month throughout the school year.

The monthly programs have contributed to a widespread interest in Puerto Rico and South America. At each meeting the members were taken on imaginary journeys to visit our neighbors to the south. During the Christmas season the club went caroling with the French and German clubs. A Christmas party was held afterwards at the home of Miss Gunden, the club's sponsor.

The purpose of this organization is to create, encourage, and maintain an active interest in the Spanish language, customs, and culture. It is the endeavor of this club through its activities to increase the language facility through self-expression, to enrich the lives of its members through a sympathetic acquaintance with the artistic and cultural heritage of the Spanish-speaking peoples, and to develop attitudes of understanding and sympathy internationally.

The Home Economics Club, under the advisoryship of Miss Wyse, sponsored its activities for everyone enrolled in a home economics course. Its purpose was to provide extracurricular activities in domestic arts and to have a time when those interested in home economics could get together for discussion and information. At the beginning of the school year, all prospective members were entertained at a breakfast. Before winter weather kept the girls indoors, one meeting centered around outdoor cookery. The general theme for the monthly meetings was a survey of vocational opportunities. Miss Weaver, the college dietitian, related some of her recent experiences in human nutritional experimentation at a university hospital. Other guests spoke about the fields of teaching and social work. The club enjoyed meetings given by its own members as well. At the Christmas party each girl brought a Christmas centerpiece suggestion, and Evelyn Showalter demonstrated gift wrapping. Instead of a gift exchange, members packed and distributed Christmas boxes to needy families in East Goshen.

Forensics

"Mr. Chairman, friends; Our subject for debate this year was "Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward the establishment of free trade among the nations of the world." Our terms need no definition. The schedule as completed shows attendance at three tournaments, at Anderson College on November 30, at Manchester College on December 8, and again at Manchester College on February 23. There were ten regular members of the squad, some of whom dropped out during the second semester.

Our student body has not been inactive in other forensic activities. Kathryn Yoder won the women's discussion contest with "Papa is A Preacher," and Ray Bair's oration entitled "Doors" placed first in the men's discussion contest. May I cite further evidence for my statement? Don Berry, Ethel Yake, and Dick Anderson placed first in the peace oratorical, poetry reading, and men's discussion contests respectively.

Therefore, in conclusion, because of everything I have said, I think you will all agree with me that it has been a profitable season."

Athletics

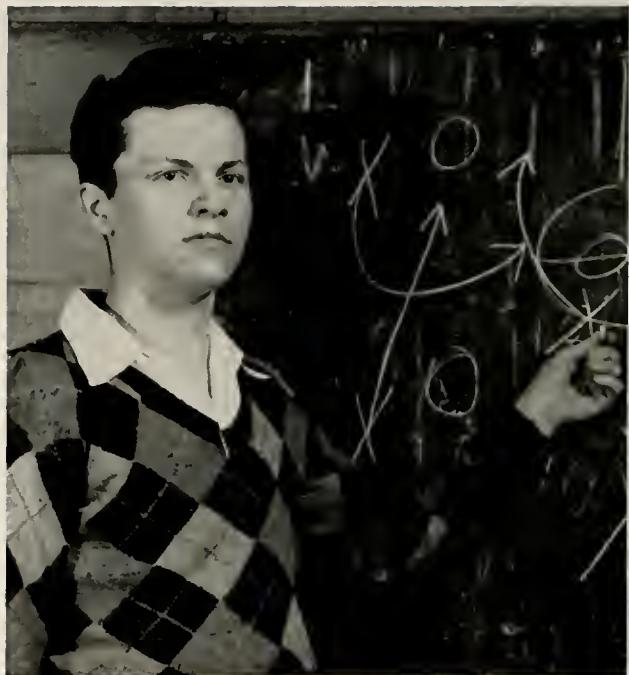

They have seen more action than anything else on the campus. What? Why, the baseball diamond, the football field, the ping pong room, the basketball field, the ice covered dam in winter!

One of the greatest assets anyone can have is a strong healthy body. The Goshen College athletic program provides opportunities for each student to participate in his favorite sports. At Homecoming grads and under-classmen alike gather to raise the roof for "Varsity" and "Alumni." Spring finds athletes training for the track and field meet usually held in May. Every season means Christian sportsmanship and wholesome fun in athletics, so . . .

"Here's to the white and the purple . . .
For Goshen dear we all love you."

Living

What a student does when he isn't in class or working reflects his personality. Some like a brisk walk through the woods to the dam or a rousing ping pong game. The piano, in or out of tune, appeals to many. Nine-thirty in the Snack Shop, letters home or poking around in the library stacks discovering "just for fun" information may find a place in a student's free hours. Another favorite pastime of most GC men and women seems to be some form of that traditional collegiate pet, the bull session. The free interchange of ideas in these small discussion groups helps shape and mold the thinking of the individual.

A great many intangible things—spiritual vitality, friendship, learning, recreation — all blend together to form the pattern of living at Goshen College.

we're COOKIN' with

Infra- Red

In photo-engraving as in any industry pioneering and developments are brought about by the leaders in the field.

In 1945, Willard Louis Wheeler, president of the Electro-Matic Engraving Company brought about an innovation in photo-engraving . . . The Electro-Matic Infra-red Burn-in Oven. This new process, instead of frying the plate, bakes it "in," leaving a finer, more life like illustration on copper to give you the better quality which this invention affords.

This oven is accepted nationally for its excellence and acclaimed as the best development in photo-engraving in a decade. It was used along with all our other modern equipment in the Electro-Matic plant in the production of the fine photo-engravings in your yearbook.

You can be sure of intelligence in handling of yearbook problems, and the ultimate in reproductive values at Electro-Matic.

We're cookin' with Infra-red!—

Acknowledgements

The publication of this book has been possible only through the help of many individuals. May I take this opportunity to thank the following:

Our Advertisers;

Merle Shanklin, whose expert photography is seen on these pages;

Electro-Matic Engraving Company;

The Defiance Printing and Engraving Company;

North American Press, which produced the covers;

Dean Carl Kreider, whose counsel has been invaluable;

Stanley Weaver and the other fellows who have carried photographic equipment all over the campus;

and all of the untiring workers on the Maple Leaf Staff.
